

Talking Lesson

Directions: Copy the lesson onto a separate piece of paper. Be sure to title it "Talking Lesson" and put your name, date, and class period on the top right-hand corner of your paper.

TALKING LESSON

I understand that time is one of the most valuable things we have. Fifty-five minutes is so little time to do all the things we need to do in class, so it is extremely important to make every minute count. When I talk or goof off or disrupt the class, I am wasting valuable learning time. That is not fair to my teacher, my classmates or to me.

I understand that it is okay to talk:

1. If I raise my hand and the teacher calls on me.
2. If talking is necessary to complete my assignment.
3. If it is free time and I have completed my assignments.

But I know that I must not talk:

1. When the teacher is talking.
2. When a student is asking or answering a question.
3. When the teacher has instructed the class to be quiet.

I can see that learning how to talk only when it is proper to do so is very important, so I will copy this paper as many times as is necessary until I have demonstrated that I have learned this lesson.